WEDDING IN WASHINGTON.

Mr. Fielding Lewis and Miss Elliott Made One.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—(Special.)—At St. Matthew's church, this city, at noon to-day, the marriage of Miss Lidey Elliott to Mr. Fielding Lewis was witnessed by a large gathering of friends. The ushers—Mr. Henry G. Kemp, Mr. Miner, and Mr. Pollok—were kept busy until the arrival of the bridal party scating the guests. The bride was attended by Miss Lewis as maid of honor. Mr. Deversaux Green was best man, and Rev. Paul Rennolds performed the marriage ceremony. The wedding breakfast which followed, at the residence of Colonel and Mrs. Elliott, 1822 O street, was attended by only a few intimate friends, in addition to the large circle of relatives of the couple from this city and Virginia. After a welfound trip of six weeks duration Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will go to South McAllister.

The bride is an accomplished and charming stri. The scroom is of the Lewis family, of King George county, Va., a graduate of Georgetown College, and a promising young lawyer of South McAllister, in the Indian Perritory, He is the great-grandson of Betty, the only sister of General George Washington, who married Colonel Fielding Lewis, a distinguished officer of the Revolution. HOOSIER DEMOCRACY

SILVERITES IN FULL CONTROL.

Gold Men, However, Make a Sharp Fight-Bynum Hooted Down on At-Shively for Governor.

Democratic State Convention to-day has proven the largest and one of the most exciting the party ever had in this State. While it was well understood that the free-silver people had an overwhelming majority, the sound-money men put up such a surprisingly solid front, and conducted their struggle with such persistent energy and skill, that they kept the silverites guessing all the time what their next move would be. A somewhat bitter feeling had been developed by the hot struggle for supremacy in Marion county (Indianapolis), and by the fact that the gold men had succeeded by strategy in capturing the Committee on Organization and turning down J. G. Shanklin and B. F. Shively, whom the silver people had fixed upon for delegates-at-large, and recommending in their stead G. V. Menzies, a gold man, and Judge McCabe, whose en thusiasm for silver is not very strong.

There was no lack of attendance, and when Chairman Holt, of the State Committee, rapped for order, the great hall was crowded to the doors. It was tastefully decorated with flags, bunting, and lithographs of Governor Matthews. No Democratic signs appeared on the walls, decorations as was his name by its ab-sence from the platform. The decorations had been put up under the direction of Tim. Griffin, an appointee of Governor Matthews's in the State House, and the platform was prepared by a committee with Matthews at its head. The weather with Matthews at its head. The weather was so hot and muggy that the great majority of the delegates were in their shirt-sleeves, and they did not grow cooler as the convention progressed.

The convention first listened to prayer and submitted to being photographed. As soon as the roll-call was finished, the report of the Cooler and the state of the convention of the cooler and the report of the report as soon as the roll-call was finished, the report of the Organization Committee came in. The report developed the fact that the silver people had made a new move to down the Marion county gold crowd by not recognizing the district meeting of the night before, and requiring the Seventh District to hold another meeting, with the silver contestants seated.

other meeting, with the silver contestants seated.

The first trouble caused by the report was on delegates at large. As soon as the report was read, Judge Bryan, of Huntington, moved to substitute the name of J. G. Shanklin for that of Menzies. This was greeted with cheers. Mr. Bynum moved to table the motion, but this was voted down by an overwheiming viva voce vote. Bynum demanded a roll-call on the original motion, and it was started amid confusion, but was interrupted by Shanklin himself, who came forward to withdraw his name. He was greeted with cries of "No, no," and with the wildest delight when he branched off into a silver speech. His declaration that Menzies was the choice of Matthews brought forth some hisses. He said:

FOR HARMONY.

FOR HARMONY.

"I have the honor to have my name considered by some of those here assembled as a delegate-at-large to the national convention. I am here to say to you, however, that no man should stand in the way of a pacific settlement of all the questions at issue. I understand that it is the preference of the distinguished Governor of this State, whose name will be upon all Indiana banners, that Major Menzies be chosen. (Great confusion, and loud cries of 'No, no.') I also understand that Major Menzies agrees, as a stand that Major Menzies agrees, as a man of honor, and with that understand-ing, believing, as I have stated, that I beg to withdraw my name, and beg those who have supported me, to support Major Menzies. (Loud cries of 'No.')

In the battle before us there must b "In the battle before us there must be no difference among us. We must draw our line of battle clear, and direct every effort against the common enemy. I have thought of but one thing, and stand here for but one purpose. It is to see that our money shall be restored to its ancient place. (Loud and continued appliause.) I am opposed to the modern idea of finance, which finds its prophets in Lombard. which finds its prophets in Lombard street, London, and Wall street, New York. They are false prophets, and not the kind the Democrats have followed in the past, and will follow in the future. (Loud applause.) My fellow-citizens, I (Loud applause.) My fellow-citizens, I beg leave to withdraw my name from beg leave to withdraw my name from further consideration."

At the close of his talk, Mr. Shanklin was greeted with loud cries of "No," and the roll-call proceeded through tweive counties. It was going bravely against Menzies, when, at the suggestion of Shanklin, made through Judge Richardson, of Evansville, Chairman Holt cut it short by taking a viva-voce vote on the adaption of the whole report, and deadoption of the whole report, and de-clared it carried, though the noes were in the majority. This carried with it the throwing out of the Seventh District

MARION COUNTY ROW.

The Marion county row was immediately precipitated upon the convention, after the speech of the permanent chairman. Beliamy Sutton read the report of the Credentials Committee. This report unseated Chairman Holt, of the State Committee, as a delegate, and gave the silver men the best of it in the county. The Fifth Ward delegation split, giving each side three and a half. The gold men were seated in the Sixth, and the silver men were seated in the Ninth. Tenth, Twelfth, and Fifteenth, with an even split in the Thirteenth. This made thirty-seven silver men and twelve gold men, and gave the silver people control of the delegation. The Marion county row was immediatel and gave the silver people the delegation.

The report closed with a long resolution ordering the delegation from the Seventh District, as made up by the Credentials Committee, to retire, and present new selections for delegates and committeemen. Mr. Sutton demanded the previous question. John W. Kern, of Marion, offered a minority report, but the Chair did not let him read it, though he was given leave to file it. The report was given leave to file it. did not let him read it, though he was given leave to file it. The report was adopted, under the operation of the previous question, amid great confusion. In obedience to this order, the silver delegates from the Seventh District left the hall, but the gold delegates never left their seats, and there was a period of almost riotous confusion while the move almost riotous confusion while the move was being made.

was being made.

After the silver men had left, J. E. McCullogh, of Marion county, offered a report of the Seventh District meeting—that is, the gold wing of it, but the Chair peremptorily declared it out of order, peremptorily declared it out of order and declared that the report of the Reso lutions Committee was the order of busi

"The Seventh District," said Mr. McCullough, calmly, "would like very much to participate in this convention, and again participate in this convention, and again begs to offer the report of the meeting."
"That is past and gone," said Chairman Bell, with a smash of his gavel. There was so much confusion that a recess of thirty minutes was ordered to give the Seventh District silver men a chance to report. In the mean time, the gold people tried to find their report to offer it, but they had lost track of it, and could not had passed, and the convention awaited the report of the silver contingent. A WILD SCENE.

The platform was started on its way by a motion for the previous question, when W. D. Bynum arose and a wild scene ensued. He was intending to offer a minority report. The convention en-deavored to how him down, but he stood deavored to howl him down, but he stood his ground. Chairman Beil declared him out of order, and declared the platform adopted, but Bynum wildly gesticulated, and declared that he was acting under the rules. Each side tried to outyell the other, and the police were ordered to clear the aisles, but Bynum still stood untouched. Senator Turple was brought forward and started to speak, but it was five minutes before he could be heard.

five minutes before he could be heard. He was finally given attention, while he made a silver speech of some length.

All the time the Senator talked Bynum stood in the aisle, and when the speech was through again claimed attention, and the confusion was resumed.

Over an hour of confusion was great the confusion was resumed.

Over an hour of confusion was spent in trying to get a hearing for Bynum. Chairman Bell ordered the alses cleared, and this only added to the confusion and uproar, which lasted for fully half an hour, while the chairman railed at the police-service, and the delegates howled themselves hoarse. Major Winfred, a silver man of Evansville, was yelling from the stage to have Bynum put out, and finally sprang down to where the ex-Congressman stood, with the intention of doing it himself, but the police interfered and there was no altercation.

BYNUM HEARD AT LAST

BYNUM HEARD AT LAST.

Finally, when everybody was tired out, ex-Congressman John E. Lamb, a silver delegate, moved that Bynum be given five minutes' time, and order was gradually restored. A roll-call was taken on this motion, which was carried by a slight majority. When Air. Bynum took the stage be was greeted with hoots, hisses, and cheers. He first explained that under the rules of the convention he had a right to be heard, and then read the amendment which he had intended to offer. This was to strike out the financial plank, and insert in its stead the financial plank adopted at the Chicago convention in 1862. After reading this he declared that Grover Cleveland was for sound money, and that 90 per cent, of the Democrats of Indiana. for sound money, and that 30 per cent, of the Democrats of Indiana were for Grover Cleveland still. This was greeted with such a storm of hoots and howis that nothing further could be heard. The convention would not listen to another word, and Bynum was finally compelled to retire.

The convention then proceeded to nominate a Governor, and on the first ballot B. F. Shively, of South Bend, was nominated, George W. Cooper, who was put up by the sound-money men, getting less than one hundred votes. This was not a test, however, for Lake, Tippecanoe, and other sound-money counties voted for Shiveley.

CONVENTION HALL, COLUMBUS, O.,

June 24 - Delay in reaching an agreement in the Resolutions Committee delayed the opening of the Democratic State Convention till 10:30 this morning. Chairman M, A. Smalley, in calling the convention to order, made no speech, simply reading the list of temporary officers selected by the State Committee, and introducing Temporary-Chairman W. A. Taylor, who made a pronounced free-sliver speech. At the conclusion of Colonel Taylor's speech, a delegate secured the floor and declared his gratification at the disapproval expressed by the convention of Grover Cleveland, whom he characterized as "the Benedict Arnold" of the Demo cratic party. He was hissed down at that point, and the report of the Committee on Rules was called for and read by Allen Smalley, of Wyandotte, the chair-

Senator McMaken tried to have the clause of the report of the Committee on Rules, which required all resolutions to be sent to the Committee on Resolutions, stricken out, but the motion was defeated by an overwhelming vote. WARNER CHAIRMAN.

The Committee on Permanent Organiza-tion presented its report, which was adopted without amendment, and a comwhelming vote by which the report of the Committee on Rules was adopted showed that any opposition from the gold delegates would be furile. The only thing they objected to was the rule send-ing all resolutions to the Resolutions Committee, thus shutting off debate practically, when the report of the Resolutions Committee comes in.

In taking the chair as permanent chairman, General Warner made a short speech. His only criticism of the present national administration was that it had created an enormous debt in a time of peace. He said he believed Major McKinley was honest in his money theory, but he could no more bring prosperity to the nation that way than he could lift himself by his boot-straps.

The report of the Credentials Committee, seating the silver-faction delegates in Stark county, the only place where there was a contest, was adopted withing the addition to the majority report of a tariff plank, a Cuban plank, and other resolutions denouncing the Republican administration of the State, was presented by J. C. Patterson, of the Third District. It was promptly tabled. A motion was then made to strike out the unit-rule resolution. This was also tabled. The roll of counties was demanded on the oversion of adopting the majority the question of adopting the majority report by the cpponents of the unit rule, all opposition to free coinage having ap-parently been withdrawn.

THE PLATFORM.

Following is the platform:

Sharkey, the latest aspirant for the title, drew an enormous crowd to Mechanics' pavilion to-night. Sports from all over the coast were in attendance, many having come from as far East as Sait Lake City. The betting to-day was 10 to 8 that Corbett would not stop Sharkey. There was no Corbett money in sight at these odds. Corbett was seconded by Billy Delaney, Jim Carr, and George Green. Sharkey's seconds were Danny Needham, Tim McGrath, and Paddy Ryan, of Vallejo.

The articles provided that Corbett should receive 50 per cent. of the gross receipts, whether he was beaten or not, Sharkey to receive 35 her cent. of the net receipts if he stayed the four rounds. The gross receipts are estimated at 35,000. The men finished the fourth round in a clinch, and the referee declared the contest a draw. Sharkey's right eye was closed, while Corbett was without a scratch.

er Toward Uncle Sam. WASHINGTON, June 24.—As soon as Secretary Olney returns to the State De-partment, and he is confidently expected to-morrow, he will receive from Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, a request from the British Government to use his good offices with Venezuela to secure the release from imprisonment of Crown-Surveyor Harrison, who is reported to have been arrested by Venezuelan police while he was engaged in constructing a road connecting the Barima and Cuyuni rivers, in the disputed territory. This action of Great Britain is considered in diplomatic circles a radical departure from the ultimatum methods hitherto practiced on American republics, and much significance is attached to this fact, as probably indicating considerable progress towards an arbitration agreement and a practical acknowledsment that the United States is a party at interest in the Venezuelan dispute as well as in future controversies regarding like territory on the American continent.
